CHICAGO—Fighting between the blacks and whites in the Negro district on Monday resulted in a shooting affray in which one policeman was wounded and several persons injured. The fighting took place on South State street. Another riot started on the beach at the foot of Twenty-ninth street. Two negroes were drowned after being struck by missiles.

CHICAGO—In the racial warfare here during the past 48 hours eight negroes and 14 whites have been killed with more than 100 wounded. Rioting broke again yesterday morning, one negro being killed and two wounded on Wabash and Adams streets. Joseph Powers, a white street car conductor was killed in the stock yard section. It is estimated that one hundred thousand negroes and whites fought in streets and alleys with many more cowering in homes.

CHICAGO—Two more regiments of State troops arrived today. Eight thousand soldiers are now on the scene. Thirty have been killed and about four hundred injured.

CHICAGO—A total of 16 policemen have been wounded since the outbreak of trouble between the Negroes and whites.

CHICAGO—(Thursday afternoon)—The main Negro quarters of Chicago are this afternoon patrolled by 6,000 soldiers accoutered as for war, after four nights of race rioting that have caused the deaths of 17 Negroes and 13 whites, and injury to nearly 1,000 persons, 200 of whom are severely wounded. It is believed that at least a dozen will die of wounds.

CHICAGO—A strike of 15,000 street railway employees for higher wages at four o'clock Tuesday morning tied up all surface and elevated systems. Six thousand attended the meeting at the Carmen's Auditorium at which the strike vote was carried with a shout.

CHICAGO—The street car men will probably take a referendum in view of the racial war question and return to work.

WASHINGTON—Grigsby, in his answer to Wickersham filed in the House, sets forth that Sulzer received a plurality of three and that Sulzer received the Certificate of Election. He alleges that through fraud large numbers of aliens were permitted to vote for Wickersham and that he (Wickersham) did not receive legally all the votes accredited to him. Grigsby alleges that additional legal voters who would have voted for Sulzer were restrained from casting their ballots. Grigsby's reply was referred to the elections committee.

WASHINGTON—The Vestal resolution as passed by the House gives action against Grigsby with the same legal effect it would have had against Sulzer had he lived. The resolution gives Wickersham 40 days from Tuesday in which to take his testimony to prove his election last November. Grigsby has the next 40 days to take testimony in opposition to Wickersham's claims, and then Wickersham has 10 days in which to introduce rebuttal testimony. As passed, the Vestal resolution gives Wickersham among other things, authority to retain 40 army soldiers who are to be assembled for this purpose at Valdez, Alaska as to matters touching the election in Alaska last November at which Wickersham claims he was chosen as delegate. As originally introduced, the Vestal resolution would have required the soldiers to disclose for whom they voted.

COLON—Lieutenant Ellis and Sergeant Vonberg were killed today in a collision between an army airplane and a naval seaplane at the entrance of Colon harbor.

WASHINGTON—Beginning Monday morning, the tenth week of the Senate debate on the peace treaty was accompanied by many evidences of expectancy that the statements from the President might clarify two issues around which discussion has centered—Shantung and reservations. As to whether the President would express readiness to accept reservations or other qualifications not imperiling the league covenant, remained a subject of conjecture.

WASHINGTON—Charles E. Hughes in a letter to Senator Hale made public on Monday, declared in favor of the League of Nations, but maintained that certain reservations and interpretations should be made to protect American interests.

WASHINGTON—The President began to discuss the Peace Treaty Monday with the Democratic senators. Further conferences with Republican senators, a dozen of whom have already visited the White House, were held in abeyance. Senator Robert Y. Thomas, democrat, of Kentucky, was the first caller today. He declared his talk with the President as highly satisfactory. He said he was reading the treaty for the fourth time and was not yet ready to announce his attitude.

WASHINGTON—President Wilson has informed Senator Lodge that he was not able to bring from Paris the complete file of papers relating to the peace conference but would be able to submit to the committee only those papers which happened to be in his hands when he left France. The Republican House leaders have decided to begin a recess August 2 and will continue until September 8.

WASHINGTON—Senator Harry S. New, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, announced that he will go to the White House tomorrow prepared to listen respectfully and earnestly to the President. "I welcome the opportunity to discuss the treaty with him," he said.

WASHINGTON—President Wilson on Tuesday transmitted to the Senate our special treaty with France by which the United States pledges itself to come to the immediate aid of that republic in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany and asked its early ratification along with the treaty with Germany. He sent it to the Capitol by a special messenger along with a message explaining its object. By unanimous consent the treaty was laid before the Senate in open session at the request of Chairman Lodge of the Foreign Relations Committee. At the suggestion of Lodge it was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee. In urging its ratification the President's message in part said, "I was moved to sign this treaty by considerations which will, I hope, seem persuasive and irresistible to you as they seemed to me. We are bound to France by ties of friendship which we have always regarded and shall always regard as peculiarly sacred. She assisted us to win our freedom as a nation. It is seriously to be doubted whether we could have won it without her gallant and timely aid."

COMING OUT OF SECLUSION

Chinese Girls Are Beginning to Adopt Dress and Manners of Their European Sisters.

Chinese women are coming into their own. In the World Outlook Tyler Dennett, describing a Sunday afternoon in Peking, says that in the Chinese-English park in the imperial city, under the red and yellow walls of the Forbidden city itself, there are to be found things never before seen on Chinese sea or land.

There are Chinese girls, he says, ranging from sixteen years to nineteen, with their black glistening hair in long braids, their pink trousers reaching midway down to their up-to-date European pumps. With this regalia they wear bright blue stockings, and some of them are to be seen smoking cigarettes.

Only the two extremes of the Chinese feminine social order are exposed to public view. The coolie woman one sees hoeing the fields, pulling the car, carrying her fair or unfair share of every load. But the lives of the great mass of Chinese women beginning with the orders just above this class are shrouded, he says, in mystery.

The Chinese girls that one sees at the race meetings, motoring down Bubbling Wells road, are the emancipated Chinese girls. While not exactly typical, they are leading a procession which grows larger every year, and they indicate a tendency which is causing no little harm.

SIX-HOUR DAY FOR LABOR

Lord Leverhulme Believes It Would Be for the Benefit of Both Employer and Employee.

The six-hour day proposal of the Socialist party of New York is not taken very seriously in this country, but Lord Leverhulme's similar plan for English industry is not so lightly treated in Britain.

Lord Leverhulme is interested in efficiency as well as in the happiness and health of the workers. He believes that many industries would turn out larger product with smaller expenditure of money if the eight-hour day were abolished in favor of the six-hour day.

Many factories use few men in comparison with the amount of machinery they require. It is most important that this machinery should be kept running at maximum speed throughout the whole day. Three shifts of eight hours are much less efficient, Lord Leverhulme holds, than four six-hour shifts would be.

Then there are businesses where the office expense and cost of advertising and sales are high in comparison with the shop costs. These, too, are ripe for the six-hour program, the reforming lord believes.

He would not establish the shorter day in industries where the tools are cheap and unimportant, at least not at present; and he does not advocate a six-hour day for farming.

WHY HE STOOD UP.

Patience—I saw Harry at the patriotic meeting last night. He was in khaki.

Patriot—Oh, you saw him, did you?

"Yes, and he was so patriotic that he stood up during the entire meeting."

"Oh, that wasn't altogether patriotism. He's joined the cavalry, you know, and yesterday was the first day he'd tried to ride a horse."

STAYED WITH THEM.

A marine confided to the surgeon who was dressing his wound that his company had, at one point, swarmed up to the German artillery and taken the guns. "Were you able to bring them back?" the doctor wanted to know.

"Bring them back? H—, we're camping there."

BUT NOT SO GOOD.

Church—Why, this typewriting is awful! Look at all the wrong words in the letter.

Gotham—I know. My typewriter is like all the other women. She's using substitutes.

APPREHENSIVE.

"That new hired man seems to know a lot about agriculture," remarked Mrs. Cornstossel.

"Yes," replied her husband. "He talks so entertainin' about it I'm kind o' scared for fear he's more of a lecturer than he is a farmer."

CANNERYMEN FIND FISH RUN SLACK

Cannerymen are finding the fish slack throughout this district, according to H. L. Simonds, general superintendent of the Hoonah Packing company. Mr. Simonds, who has been spending the last week at the Gambier Bay cannery of his company, said they were getting but few fish in that section. However, they have had but little trouble there recently with fish pirates.

It is reported in Juneau that the fish have begun to run well in Icy Straits where many of the big canneries have traps located. —Empire.

Regarding Whiskey

It is against the laws of the nation to engage in the liquor traffic in Alaska, and it is the duty of those charged with the enforcement of the law to suppress the illegal trade says the Alaska Daily Empire.

Those who have had large caches of liquor which they are selling at enormous profits have no just claim for mercy. They are not in the same position as those saloon men who had on hand, when they were put out of business, wet goods the possession of which was originally lawful. The latter bought their goods to sell according to the law—and they would have gladly sold it before the clock marked the ending of legal liquor traffic in Alaska. There is a spirit of fair play that tells us that these men should have had an opportunity to get rid of the stocks they had on hand. There was a disposition to urge that the administration of justice should be tempered by mercy in their cases.

But that day has passed. No such condition confronts us now. Those who are making liquor for sale, or importing it, or who bought it for the purpose of reselling it at a profit are deliberately violating the law. They are simply sordid law breakers and plainly subject to the hazards assumed when law is knowingly violated. — Ketchikan Times.

WASHINGTON—Members of the House Elections committee say that Wickersham's proposal to contest the seat of Grigsby has brought about peculiar angles involving the legality of the case. They cite that Sulzer died before he could take seat and that charges that fraudulent practices were used in the election, were made by Wickersham, but since a certificate of election was not given to Sulzer before his death Wickersham could not serve notice on him that he would contest as provided by law.

When the President presents the treaty he will accompany it with an explanatory address to the Senate. No statement was made with regard to the charges in the Senate that the President violated a section of the treaty by not presenting it simultaneously with the treaty of Versailles.

DAYTON, OHIO—Captain Roy N. Francis left McCook field this morning in a Martin bombing plane for New York where in a few days he will start on a transcontinental trip to Seattle. Francis is planning to make only one stop on his flight, that being at North Platte, Nebraska.

PARIS—A dispatch from Agram and Gratz report a serious military revolt in Croatia. The revolt is taking form in a movement for separation from Serbia. Republic troops are leaving their units. Officers and subalterns are tearing off their insignia and the army is in a state of dissolution. The Serbians are trying to suppress the revolution by the use of troops. Both the Serbian and Croatia elections for a new French Parliament will probably be held October 12 when 600 deputies will be elected.

WASHINGTON—No new developments in the Grigsby-Wickersham contest. The reorganization of the Alaska Engineering Commission has been ordered to complete the railway. This is necessary in the opinion of Representative Johnson from Washington and other members of the Committee on Territories, which for three days has been hearing the statements as to the needs of the project. Johnson was severe in his criticism of the commission. The committee will call Chairman Edes before them next Thursday. The indications are that the committee will recommend the passage of the bill for the seventeenth million dollars for the completion of the road. Johnson declared himself in favor of that amount.

BERLIN—Certain New York banks offered Germany credit of one hundred millions to purchase food and raw materials.

PARIS—Bulgarian peace delegation arrived today. Terms of the Bulgarian treaty are practically completed.

WASHINGTON—President Wilson has written a letter to Senator Lodge dealing with a resolution recently adopted by the Senate. In making the announcement today the White House said that the letter was not a refusal of anything. The resolution referred to in the letter was supposed to be that of the committee asking for all documents in use by the American delegates at the Peace conference.

NEW YORK—The strike of the aerial mail pilots has been called off pending conferences in Washington today between Second Assistant Postmaster General Praeger and representatives of the strikers, it was announced by Supt. Stanton of the eastern postal division prior to his departure for Washington to confer in the aeroplane strike. The strike of 40,000 marine workers who were tying up the shipping in Atlantic and Gulf ports ended aboard the Dreadnaught New Mexico when six were killed today in a boiler explosion on the Melville, a naval tender attached to the fleet. Four dreadnaughts of the fleet have been lifted successfully through the Gatun locks and have resumed their voyage toward Pacific ports.

Alaska News Notes

It is said that more building activities have been going on at Cordova this summer than any time in the past four or five years.

The Nenana Pioneers have taken charge of the cemetery there and recently put the place in good order.

It is lilac time in Dawson. That sweet flower is blooming in abundance just now in one of the Dawson gardens.

The Peel River Indians are said to be in need. They claim that the caribou have deserted their part of the country.

The steamer Roosevelt, which was used by Admiral Peary in his Arctic explorations, was recently auctioned off at Seattle for $28,000.

The Yukon has the lowest stage of water experienced for years, steamboats having difficulty in crossing the bars.

Considerable activity is being manifested on the upper Tanana river. Several of the old timers went out to the states during the war but are now drifting back. The fur catch was light this year.

Dr. James H. Condit, superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in Alaska is making a trip along the coast as far as Point Barrow, the northernmost mission. The purpose of the trip is to make investigations and recommendations to increase the efficiency of the missions. He will return to Juneau in September.

The big new dredge of the Fairbanks Gold Mining Company started operating shortly after the first of July on Fairbanks creek. The dredge runs twenty four hours a day and is said to be very satisfactory.

Several college boys who are at Valdez for the summer working in the cannery there, climbed Sugar Loaf mountain, opposite the town. This is the first time that the ascent of that peak has ever been negotiated.

Teachers for schools in Alaska are not as easily secured this year as in the past according to L. D. Henderson, territorial commissioner of education, and his assistant, Miss Margaret Scott, who are endeavoring to fill several calls for teachers in Alaska for the coming school year. This is due to the fact that salaries paid in Alaska are no longer attractive as a nationwide raise in salaries has been made outside.

June and July have been record-breaking months for rainfall in the Yukon. While the downpour is somewhat displeasing to those who like to bask in the sunshine, the Klondike miner is delighted. The reservoirs are filled with water and the giants are spouting day and night tearing down their loads of gravel from their resting place of ages. A season like this makes tens of thousands of dollars difference monthly in favor of the camp and everyone gets his pinch of the prosperity.

God Gave You Health. Thank Him For It. Go to Church.

SOME people never think of God until a loved one is ill or a great trouble befalls them. Then they seek the SOLACE OF RELIGION. A clergyman is called in, and prayers are said at the bedside for the loved one's recovery. God is MERCIFUL, and oftentimes these prayers are answered, and the loved one recovers.

IT IS NOT FAIR TO GOD, HOWEVER, TO ASK HIM TO REMEMBER YOU WHEN YOU HAVE FORGOTTEN HIM. WHEN EVERYTHING IS GOING ALONG SMOOTHLY AND THE WORLD LOOKS BRIGHT SOME MEN FORGET THERE IS A GOD. THEY NEVER GO TO CHURCH. WHILE THEY WILL RESENT THE CHARGE THAT THEY WOULD OPENLY OFFEND GOD, THEY OFFEND HIM DEEPLY BY NOT GOING TO CHURCH. THE SUCCESSFUL MAN SHOULD GO TO CHURCH TO THANK GOD FOR HIS WORLDLY GIFTS. THE SUPREME BEING GAVE HIM ALL HE HAS—LIFE, HEALTH, HAPPINESS—AND HE SHOULD THANK HIM FOR THEM.

Thanks to the GO TO CHURCH movement, there has been a religious awakening over the land. RELIGION NEVER WAS DEAD. All that it required was a stimulus, and that stimulus was provided by the GO TO CHURCH campaign. It should not be necessary to urge men to GO TO CHURCH. There isn't an argument that can be advanced by any man who believes in God in favor of staying away from church. Take away the churches and you will have a condition bordering on anarchy.

The man who GOES TO CHURCH is prepared to MEET ANY CRISIS, moral, physical or financial. His faith in a Supreme Being sustains him in the most severe trials.

Texas Editor Says Our Letter Head Would Be a Credit to a New York Paper

Read This:

[Marshall (Tex.) Messenger.]

We are in receipt of a request for a copy of the Messenger from the Wrangell Sentinel, published at Wrangell, Alaska. The letter is dated June 7 and was received June 23. A noticeable feature is that the letter head used is right up to date and would be a credit to any New York paper.

The above favorable comment was not influenced by friendship or old acquaintance. The editor of the Marshall Messenger never heard of the publisher of the Sentinel until he received our letter requesting a copy of his paper.

An Alleged Contradiction of a News Item Appearing in the Sentinel Last Week

In last week's issue of the Sentinel we published the following news item:

Dr. Brown is in ecstasies today over a certificate received from the Public Health Service acknowledging that she had a part in the Flu epidemic.

After the paper was issued we were surprised to find that we had offended Dr. Anna Brown. She asserted that we had attempted to belittle her by making it appear that the certificate she received came from the local Board of Health. She expressed her resentment at having her certificate credited to the wrong source. She asserted that the certificate came to her as a complete surprise, and was issued in Washington, D. C., as an expression of appreciation of her service in so successfully handling the many cases of Flu that came under her care. The Doctor handed us the following communication with the request that we publish it:

I contradict the statement that the Certificate sent to me was from the Board of Health. The Certificate comes from Washington.

DR. A. BROWN.

Doctor Brown is absolutely right when she says that her certificate did not come from the Board of Health. But where can it be shown that the Sentinel has ever said that her certificate came from the Board of Health? We tried to convince Dr. Brown that she was attempting to contradict something the Sentinel had not said, and therefore there was no occasion to publish her letter. She then charged that we were afraid to publish her letter for fear we would hurt somebody's feelings. So we waxed bold and decided to make a hero of ourself by publishing her letter without any consideration whatever for any feelings which she thinks would be hurt by its publication. Furthermore, we publish below a reproduction of the document in question. It was copied from the certificate itself, which Doctor Brown has had framed and hung in her office.

The War Orphans of France

The children of France have not yet emerged from the shadow of the war. With peace assured, and a happier future opening before them, it becomes increasingly evident that the child life of France has suffered a shock from which it is difficult to rally; while the birth rate has dropped to 8 to each 1,000 population.

The Fatherless Children of France, an American organization co-operating with a similar one in Paris of which Marshal Joffre is the head, reports that of the children receiving American aid to the extent of 10 cents a day under its plan of securing American godmothers for the little war waifs, its records show an average of 700 children's deaths per month since the armistice. The help of the American godmothers came too late to save these undernourished nerve-shocked little ones.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster of Chicago, vice-chairman of the Fatherless Children of France, has been appointed chairman of a campaign to secure American aid for the 60,000 little war orphans whose names were on the lists of the organization as "unadopted" before the signing of the armistice.

Ten cents will care for a child for an entire day; $3.00 for a month; while for $36.50 a year the donor may select a child from the lists at the organization's headquarters and be placed in correspondence with it. To adopt a child or make a donation write for information to Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Room 634, 410 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Native Girls Receive Certificates From U. S. Public Health Service

In Recognition of Their Work During the Influenza Epidemic

HYDABURG—Miss Josephine Scott, a Hyda Native girl of this city, has received from the United States Public Health Service a certificate of appreciation for service voluntarily rendered during the Influenza epidemic. Following is a copy of the certificate issued to Miss Scott:

This is to Certify that MISS JOSEPHINE SCOTT served as Nurse in this service during the emergency arising from the Influenza Epidemic of 1918-1919, and this certificate is given as an expression of appreciation for patriotic service voluntarily rendered.

METLAKATLA—Miss Bertha Smith, a Native girl of this city, has received from the United States Public Health Service a certificate of appreciation for the part she took in the Influenza epidemic. Following is a copy of the certificate received by Miss Smith:

United States Public Health Service

Treasury Department

This is to certify that MISS BERTHA SMITH served as Nurse in this service during the emergency arising from the Influenza Epidemic of 1918-1919, and this certificate is given as an expression of appreciation for patriotic service voluntarily rendered.

RUPERT BLUE,
Surgeon General.

[Gold Seal]

Other worthy people in other towns and villages also received certificates from the United States Public Health Service. In one instance even the publisher of a newspaper in South-eastern Alaska received one of these beautifully lithographed Certificates with a gold seal which came as an expression of appreciation for having voluntarily assisted in the work of caring for the sick during the Influenza epidemic. We have it on good authority that Certificates were issued only those persons whose names appeared on the U. S. Public Service payroll in connection with the Influenza epidemic. But even so, we feel that too much credit cannot be given all those who worked unceasingly day and night in order to alleviate the sufferings of those afflicted with that dread disease.

Not a "Grapevine" Proposition

This week one of our friends half-jokingly asked us if we were running much "grapevine" in the Sentinel these days. In newspaper vernacular "grapevine" means telegraph or cable news copied from other papers. We are glad to state that there is not one "grapevine" dispatch in the Sentinel.

Mr. W. W. McLaughlin, who is in charge of the local U. S. cable office, will vouch for our statement that our cable tolls for this week's issue amount to $25, and this does not include the money we must pay at the end of the month to the press agency which sends us the news.

Perhaps the surest way to make the world safe for democracy would be to make it unsafe for the Bolsheviks. —Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Dawson folk who took a trip to Eagle, on the American side of the line, were surprised at the beauty and cleanliness of the town. Six hydraulic plants are working in the vicinity.

All Wrangell Goes Picnicking

The greater part of Wrangell went picnicking last Sunday. C. M. Coulter took a merry party out on the Diamond C to Big Bay for the day. Those on board were the Coulter family, the La Bounty family, Erma, John, Neal and Margaret Grant, Florence Billin, May Goodrich, Elsie Seeley, Wallace Turner, Lloyd Dalgity, Leonard Campbell and Harry Mortimer.

The Myers and Leonard families enjoyed a beach dinner above the cemetery. The Berg families went to the city reservoir for the day.

M. McKinney took his family, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Palmer and children, M. O. Johnson and N. Nussbaumer to Mill Creek for a day's fishing.

Andy Lillian and Ed Grigwire left on the Bear for Blind Slough on Saturday night so as to have a long day for fishing. Their fish stories make everyone else keep silent for they say they caught 1361 trout. That may not be the exact number but it was something like that, anyway.

George H. Barnes had a number of friends aboard the Halcyon for an afternoon's pleasure trip.

A pleasant party that spent the day picnicking at Pat's Creek was composed of Samuel Cunningham and family, B. Y. Grant and family, H. J. Wallace and family, Arnt Sorset and family and Mrs. Bertha Skelton and children. The voyage was made on Mr. Cunningham's new launch, Supreme, which was built by Fred Bevier. The Supreme is 38 feet in length with a 9-foot beam. She has a capacity of 9 tons and makes 7 knots an hour. She is powered with a 15 h. p. Wright, which is one of the popular marine engines for which Mr. Cunningham is agent.

The Fido Club went on Captain Johansen's boat, the Karen, to Knig's Glacier and are unanimous in their verdict that this was the finest and best of all their outing trips.

Otto Vieweg, Carl Stoeckel and Stanton Crawford left in a gas-boat Saturday night for Karenfsky Island. They camped on the beach for the night and early in the morning began the ascent of the mountain. Over five hours of climbing were required to reach the summit, but they consider themselves amply repaid for all the labor involved and intend to climb all the higher mountains of this vicinity before the summer closes.

There were undoubtedly many other delightful picnic parties which have escaped the Sentinel reporter.

It is said that a prominent hotel man took his wife to Pat's Creek in an Evinrude and had to row home, but as it is our policy to do as we would be done by, and furthermore, as we are not sure the gentleman has recovered from his feeling of peevishness incurred by his physical culture exercise we will refrain from making any mention of his day of joy and gladness.

C. M. Coulter shipped 93 boxes of fish on the Jefferson and 49 on the City of Seattle.

Miss Belle Hood, daughter of William Hood, will leave on the Jefferson for Juneau. In the fall Miss Hood will go to Seattle to enter the University of Washington.

N. M. Tate, superintendent for the Union Bay Fisheries, is in town today. Mr. Tate says that fish have not been coming very well so far. He was in Kethikan Monday and says there's a fair run of Humpies in the vicinity, which means that they will be up this way in a few days.
